MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WYOMING STATE BAR

August 31, September 1 & 2, 1966

Riverton, Wyoming

The 26th annual meeting of the integrated Bar, the same being also the 51st Annual meeting of the Wyoming State Bar, was delightfully kicked off by afternoon registration on August 31, following which the First National Bank of Riverton and the First National Bank of Lander hosted a pleasant social hour at the Elks Club.

The first regular session of the 26th annual meeting was called to order by President Elmer J. Scott, Worland, Wyoming, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., September 1, 1966, in the Acme Theater, Riverton, Wyoming. President Scott opened the meeting by calling upon the Reverend J. Stanley Fixter, Minister of the First Methodist Church, Riverton, Wyoming, to give the invocation. After thanking Reverend Fixter, President Scott then asked that the membership follow him in the Pledge of Allegiance. Following the Pledge of Allegiance, President Scott called upon Mike Svilar, President of the Fremont County Bar Association, who cordially welcomed the entire membership to Riverton for the 26th Annual Convention. After thanking Mr. Svilar for the very warm welcome, President Scott called upon George F. Guy, president-elect, Cheyenne, Wyoming, who responded to the welcome from the Fremont County Bar Association.

President Scott then introduced R. Verne Kidwell, president of the Idaho State Bar, and Cullen Y. Christenson, president of the Utah State Bar.

Following the introduction of guests, President Scott called upon John T. Dixon, Powell, Wyoming, secretary-treasurer of the Wyoming State Bar, who read the annual Treasurer's Report. Following the Treasurer's report, President Scott read the report of the auditing committee in the absence of Alan K. Simpson, Chairman of that committee, who was not in attendance. Following the Treasurer's and Auditing Committee's reports, it was regularly moved, seconded and carried that the reports of the Treasurer and Auditing Committee be approved and accepted as read.

President Scott then turned the meeting over to Henry A. Burgess, Vice President, Sheridan, Wyoming, who called upon Mr. Scott for the annual report of the President. Following the report of the President, it was regularly moved, seconded and carried, that the report of the President be approved as read, and that Mr. Scott be commended for the excellent job he had done during the past year on behalf of the Wyoming State Bar.

Vice President Burgess then turned the meeting back to President Scott, who called upon R. R. Bostwick, Casper, Chairman of the Law Day Committee, who reported for that committee.

After thanking Mr. Bostwick for his committee report, President Scott appointed the following named individuals to the Resolutions Committee:

Donald P. White, Chairman	-----	Riverton
Daniel P. Svilar	-----	Lander

President Scott then read a letter from John O. Rames, Professor at the Law School, concerning the proper method of preparing legislative bills for the 1967 Legislature session.

President Scott then called upon Mike Svilar, member of the Unauthorized Practice of Law Committee, who reported on behalf of that committee. At the conclusion of Mr. Svilar's report, it was duly moved, seconded and carried that the report be approved as read.

President Scott then introduced Ed Herschler, Kemmerer, Wyoming, chairman of the Legislative Committee, who advised the meeting that the Legislative Committee was still working on finalization of legislation for the 1967 legislative session, and that he would be better prepared to report at a later date.

An attendance drawing was then held, with the Federal Tax Return Manual, donated by Commerce Clearing House, Inc., going to E. A. "Ted" Hunt of Sydney, Australia.

President Scott next called upon Dean Frank J. Trelease of the Law School at the University of Wyoming, who reported on the activities of the law school during the past year.

At the conclusion of the coffee break, President Scott called upon the Honorable Glenn H. Parker, Chief Justice of the Wyoming Supreme Court, who spoke briefly to the membership, following which the Honorable Ewing T. Kerr, Federal District Judge of the District of Wyoming, also addressed the assembly.

At the conclusion of Judge Kerr's remarks, Jerry W. Housel, chairman of the State Board of Law Examiners, introduced the new members who had been admitted since the last meeting in Casper in 1965. The new members in attendance at the 26th annual meeting of the integrated bar were:

Robert Oberst	Sheridan
Hunter Patrick	Powell

Donald Slaughter	Laramie

The final attendance drawing for the morning session followed and resulted in a one year's subscription to Shepard's Wyoming Citations or Shepard's Pacific Citations, donated by Shepard's Citations, Colorado Springs, Colorado, going to Kenneth Keldsen, Rawlins, Wyoming.

R. S. Lowe, Rawlins, was then called upon by President Scott to make the report for the Joint Minor Court and Judicial Selection Committee, following which it was regularly moved, seconded and carried that the report of the combined committees be accepted as read.

President Scott then asked Jerry Housel, Cody, Wyoming, to return to the podium as chairman of the Client Security Committee, and report on behalf of that committee. At the conclusion of Mr. Housel's report, Mr. Housel offered the following resolution, which as amended, was, upon motion duly made, and seconded, unanimously carried:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Wyoming State Bar in the annual meeting regularly assembled in Riverton, Wyoming, on September 1, 1966:

1. There is hereby established a special committee of the Wyoming State Bar called the client's security committee (hereinafter, committee) whose function is to receive, hold, manage and distribute funds received through the board of commissioners of the state bar, voluntary contributions or otherwise.

2. The committee shall consist of three members of the state bar appointed by the president for terms as follows: one for one year, one for two years, and one for three years. After the first appointments each subsequent appointment shall be for a term of three years. Any appointee who has served two full three year terms shall not be eligible for reappointment until one year after expiration of his last three year term. Any vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the president for the unexpired term.

3. Funds received by the committee shall be used to help reimburse losses hereafter caused by dishonest conduct of a member of the Wyoming State Bar in the practice of law to the extent determined proper and feasible by the committee, where such member has died or been subject to criminal or disciplinary proceedings, or has ceased to become a member of the Wyoming State Bar. The committee is authorized to consider claims for reimbursement of such losses and allow or reject them in whole or in part, having regard for funds available. The committee may use such funds for the following purposes:

a. Payment to clients or members of the public on claims approved by the committee up to annual maximums set by the committee.

b. To purchase insurance for payment of such claims if obtainable at reasonable cost and deemed appropriate.

c. For investments of any such funds not currently needed in securities authorized for fiduciaries under Wyoming Law.

All allowances on claims shall be a matter of grace and not of right, and no client or member of the public shall have any right to any funds as third party beneficiary or otherwise. The committee shall be subrogated to all rights of the recipient of any payment for recovery of the same.

4. The committee is authorized to prescribe rules and procedures consistent herewith for management of its funds and presentation, processing and payment of claims, subject to approval of the board of commissioners.

5. All sums appropriated by the board of commissioners or received from other sources for use of the committee shall be deposited by the secretary-treasurer of the state bar in a separate clients' security fund and disbursed according to written direction of the committee.

6. The president is authorized to make the appointments to the committee, and the board of commissioners are authorized to appropriate to the clients' security fund such money as may be available for the first year of operation, and thereafter such amounts as are available and needed by the committee.

7. The committee shall make a written report of its activities to the Wyoming State Bar at least annually.

8. The Committee may be abolished at any time by the Wyoming State Bar. If it is abolished all assets of the clients' security fund shall be the property of the Wyoming State Bar and shall thereupon be transferred by the secretary-treasurer to the general fund of the bar to be used for its general purposes.

President Scott then called upon Kenneth Keldsen, Rawlins, Wyoming, chairman of the Necrology committee, who reported for that committee. At the conclusion of the Necrology report, the entire membership stood for a moment of silence in memory and honor of the departed members.

The meeting was then recessed at 11:45 o'clock A. M., by Presi-

After thanking the trial panel, Mr. Scott called on William M. Barvick, Legal Services, Community Action Program, Kansas City Region Office, OEO, who talked to the membership on legal services for the poor. Having been advised by Mr. Barvick that he would remain at the convention until it closed, President Scott eliminated the question and answer session which had originally been scheduled to follow Mr. Barvick's talk.

The recommendation of the committee that a committee be appointed to conduct further study into the medical legal problems was, upon motion duly put, seconded and carried.

Housel, Cody, Wyoming, State Bar delegate to the American Bar Association, who reported on the activities and the meetings of the American Bar Association during the past year, including the mid-winter meeting held in Chicago and the annual meeting just concluded at Montreal, Canada.

Following Mr. Housel's report, President Scott advised the membership that during the year the Wyoming Law Journal as published by the University of Wyoming Law School, had been eliminated and is being replaced by a new publication entitled "Land and Water Law Review." He then called upon Dean Frank J. Trelease who discussed the change in the name and format of the Wyoming Law Journal to the Land and Water Law Review. Following which, it was duly moved by Henry Burgess that the Land and Water Law Review published by the University of Wyoming College of Law be approved as the official organ of the Wyoming State Bar, and that the commissioners be authorized to enter into a mass subscription to the Review for each member of the Wyoming State Bar. The said motion having been seconded, was unanimously carried. Dean Frank J. Trelease then moved that the officers and commissioners of the Wyoming State Bar be authorized to assist in the formation of a permanent visiting committee to improve communications and liaison between the Law School of the University of Wyoming and the Wyoming State Bar. The motion having been duly seconded, was carried.

Following Dean Trelease's motion, President Scott recessed the meeting at 4:40 o'clock P.M. until 9:00 o'clock A.M. Friday, September 2, 1966, at the same place.

The day's activities were concluded with the members joining their wives for a social hour and smorgasborg at the Riverton Elks Club.

President Scott reconvened the 26th annual meeting of the integrated Bar in the Acme Theater, Riverton, Wyoming, at 9:30 o'clock A. M., by calling upon Jerry Housel, Chairman of the State Board of Law Examiners, Cody, Wyoming, who discussed the problems that the State Board of Law Examiners encounters in handling complaints against members of the Wyoming State Bar. At the conclusion of his report, Mr. Housel recommended that a special committee be appointed to draft new rules and regulations and statutes, as the case may be, to cover the handling of complaints. It was regularly moved, seconded and carried that Mr. Housel's recommendation be accepted, and a special committee be appointed to investigate and formulate improved procedures for investigating complaints against the members of this organization.

President Scott then called upon Tom Miller, Cheyenne, Wyoming, who reported to the membership on the conference in Washington, D. C., on World Peace Through Law, which he attended during the past year. At the conclusion of his report, Mr. Miller moved that a special committee be appointed by the President of the Wyoming State Bar to cooperate with the Conference on World Peace Through Law. The motion, having been regularly seconded, was unanimously carried.

After thanking Mr. Miller, President Scott introduced Mr. Ed Herschler, Kemmerer, Wyoming, Chairman of the Legislative Committee, who presented legislation which the committee felt the Wyoming State Bar should sponsor during the 1967 Legislative session.

Proposed Bills 1-6 were upon motions individually put and seconded, adopted as legislation to be submitted to the 1967 legislative session. Mr. Spence's motion on Bill Number 7 was upon motion duly seconded, carried.

After thanking Mr. Herschler for his legislative report, the attendance drawing was held with Sterling Case, Cheyenne, Wyoming, winning a two volume set entitled "Complete Guide to a Profitable Law Practice," donated by Prentice-Hall, Inc.

During the morning, the members' wives met for brunch at the City Building, Lander, Wyoming, during which they were entertained by a special performance of the Lander Little Theater. Following the brunch, the ladies had their choice of touring the Wyoming State Training School, or attending the sighting-in ceremonies at the One Shot Antelope Hunt which was in process during the meeting of the Wyoming State Bar.

Bentley, District Judge, Second District, Laramie, Wyoming, Craig Spangenberg, Cleveland, Ohio, and Eugene S. Hames, Denver, Colorado. The gentlemen presented a model summation to the jury in a wrongful death action taken from an actual case tried in Wyoming in recent years, with Mr. Spangenberg acting as attorney for plaintiff, Mr. Hames as attorney for defendant, and the Honorable Vernon G. Bentley as presiding Judge.
